fullibility of the Church and did not for get to allude to his persecutions. There are a great many people who would like to be persecuted in the way that His Holiness is persecuted. It seems to pay well. Speaking of persecution, we observe that Bishop Gilmour, of Cleveland, has been stirring up the papers there by a church deliverance on the School question. He expresses the opinion that there is no fair show for Catholics in the United States, and that "all the elements of government are framed and organized for keeping them in the background." This hardly agrees with the opinion of the Pope, who thinks that the Church is doing marvellously well in this country. He alluded to its progress in America in his remarks yesterday, in reply to the get to allude to his persecutions. There tween a number of roughs and several his remarks yesterday, in reply to the addresses of Archbishop Wood and others, and said nothing about any persecution in the United States. No doubt had the bean called on for his opinion of our school system he would have denounced it. Still, we have no idea that his Holiness really believes that this is half as bad a country for Catholics as Spain is for Protestants. If his faithful subordinates in that country will make things just as pleasant for heretics as heretics make it in this country for British Government to remonstrate with Spain against the way in which Protest ants are treated in that land.

one and two dollar notes

It is stated at the Treasury Department that the number of legal-tender notes, one and twos only, now outstanding is $53,000,000, equally divided between the two denominations. This amount is one-seventh of the entire greenback circulation. There has been a very great complaint as to the searcity of this class of notes, and the theory at the Department is that great numbers of them are being hoarded by the people. Some have supposed, from the fact that the Department has suspended the issue of notes of this denomination to private individuals, that in the process of the resumption of specie payment they will acquire increased value over notes of other denominations. This idea is altogether erroneous. The Department is still furnishing ones and twos to the Assistant Treasurers and the United States depositories for the business of their offices. The total amount of silver issued since April 20, 1876, is $31,738,400. The fractional currency outstanding, at this date, is $200,075,807. Strike Among the Brickmakers at Haverstraw.

New York, May 24.—About 500 brickmakers at Haverstraw, N. Y., struck for higher wages Tuesday last, and yesterday these men went from yard to yard, compelling those who are willing to work for the present rates, to join them. There are about one hundred yards at Haverstraw and vicinity, and when the men join together it makes a very formidable body. The crowd became so demonstrative yesterday that the town authorities called on the militia for assistance, and this morning one company was dispatched to the scene.

The strikers continue defiant, though we are informed that the militia were en route, but no disorder occurred so far today.

THE North German Gazette, commenting on the French assurance of pacific intentions, says: "For the present only one thing can be regarded as beyond doubt, namely: the German government devotes the the most serious attention to further developments of matters in France and to symptoms of any connection of affairs they may have with the International Society, and especially with the clerical policy. The eagerness with which the French government sends assurances of peaceful intentions cannot remove the distrust attaching to the influences and circumstances under which the change of Cabinet was brought about.
